The Exhibition as a Poetry Book.

Dada Post is please to present, 'The Exhibition as a Poetry Book,' the second installment of the ambitious month long project 'Optipism-The Berlin Exhibition.' Included in this exhibition are theories of concept, written poetry, visual poetry, installation, and intervention by artist in residence Jan Hatt-Olsen (Copenhagen), visual artist Kathryn Nussdorf (Berlin)

Jan Hatt-Olsen's work utilizes the concept of 'bookscares' instead of books and of augmented text, poetry - text, poetry as ontology, perception, situations, contexts, social interaction, and mixed media rather than formal and traditional uses of text.

In 'The Exhibition as a Poetry Book,' Hatt-Olsen has moved out of urban and landscapes and into the white cube context. His work focuses on themes of poetry/music, with interactive poetry in connected urban spaces. His most notable work has been in the transformation of a downtown area into a Poetry Book. This was later chosen as one of thirty European examples of street creativity, which were exhibited in City Living - Living City | The 6th European Biennial of Towns and Town Planners. Hatt-Olsen has also published several articles as artistic research in national and international research publications

Kathryn Nussdorf will be presenting a street view photo of the full moon over the TV tower in Berlin in correspondence with the installation of a fishing line and a hook in the former Kingfish factory (now gallery Dada Post).

Kathryn Nussdorf is an American painter, writer, and illustrator. Kathryn lives and works in Berlin. Her artwork belongs to collections in Copenhagen, Berlin, New York and New Mexico and she exhibits internationally. She also writes and illustrates German high school English books (MSA)
